Dressel, St. Louis Dairy Are To Merge

Granite City Firm To Join With Aro Dairy;
To Be Major Producer

Dressel-Young Dairy Co. announced Friday its planned merger with a St. Louis dairy firm in mid-February to result in a combined business operation with expected annual sales in excess of $6-million.

Jon L. Dressel, president of the Granite City firm, said his company will merge with the Aro Dairy Co., which operates as a supplier of food stores in St. Louis, St. Louis county, out-state Missouri and northern Arkansas.

A substantial increase is anticipated at the local dairy plant where all the milk bottling will take place. "We're doubling our capacity and should hire extra people as well as transferring some here from St. Louis plant," Dressel told the Press-Record.

Presently, Dressel-Young employs 35 persons for its routes and 27 in the plant. To be added are 10 for the routes, five or six in the plant and 10 persons in the office. Aro dairy has 14 wholesale routes. All routes will start from the local plant.

The new company is to be known as the Aro-Dressel Milk Corporation, with Dressel as president, William M. Guthrie, president of Aro, will serve as vice-president of the corporation. Other top management personnel of both companies are to continue in their present capacity.

Dressel said both plants will continue in operation, each specializing in production operations it can handle most efficiently. The Dressel plant is at Niedringhaus avenue and Avenue B.

research and technical investigations, will be added to the knowledge of air pollution, such as meteorological and economic studies that have a direct bearing on air pollution. In defining problems, a methodology will be developed for their eventual solution.

Because community practical and administrative and constructive action will be developed through an advisory committee which will be composed of representatives of cities, villages, towns, counties, industry, medical societies, chambers of commerce, news media, universities, and other important community forums.

"This long-awaited study to analyze and measure contamination in the air may prove to be the spark that will set off action in controlling air pollution in our state," Dr. Yoder said. "We can no more live without clean air to breathe than we can live without clean water to drink."

County Board To Act On Tax Fund Advances

Provisions for advertising money to two half-cent sales tax funds are on the agenda for the meeting of the Madison county board of supervisors Wednesday at Edwardsville.

Action is scheduled on resolutions authorizing sale of anticipation warrants for the Civil Defense Fund and a temporary loan of $5000 from the general revenue fund to the Madison county historical museum.

A special half-cent tax rate for each of the new funds was approved by the board in the annual appropriation ordinance Dec. 28. The taxes will not be collected until next year, however.

Other matters on the agenda include a new request for bids on a new sheriff's auto, letting of bids on prisoners' clothing and bedding at the sheriff's office and bids for uniforms for the highway department.

The board at its last meeting approved a call for bids on the official town seal and received bids from the office of county clerk Miss Eulalia Hotz who prepares the agenda.

Also on the agenda for Wednesday is a hearing on a series of financial reports from the office of former county sheriff George Musse and treasurer Dan W. McGee.

A number of reports lie before congress and that's the trouble.

However, added property is needed, therefore, the county commissioners will be asked to add a right-of-way offset to the railroad.

"It takes some time for the system to clear entirely," E. C. Smith, manager, told the Press-Record.

The first test became noticeable Friday night, and complaints from the Quad-Cities to Bellville began pouring in to the water company morning.

Phenol Blamed For Bad Water Flavor

Bad tasting water over the weekend resulted from an upstream condition — possibly the dumping of phenol into the Mississippi River — it was reported by officials of East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. The water remained tasteless.

The firm was swamped with complaints from customers throughout its service area, and quick steps were taken to add a right-of-way offset to the taste.

NOT TOMORROW...

Tomorrow may be too late. Today — now — is the time for the good citizens of Granite City to recognize the responsibility that goes with community citizenship. Now is the time for the voting citizenry of our town to resolve to give of their time, ability and judgment to work for and elect ten honorable and dedicated aldermen who will honestly pledge their full efforts to an improved Granite City Government.

On April 2 vote with real purpose, but do more than just vote. Work for and support candidates who will stop dictatorial frittering away of tax money. Work for and support men of honor and proven administrative ability. Don't SELL your vote to personal interest candidates. BUY good government with the sacred ballot.

Return Granite City to the ranks of cities with lasting purpose.

Don't saddle our young people with the dismal future that continuing inept city government will guarantee. Don't make it attractive for them to leave this city to find their future elsewhere. They are our strength. Let's set them an example on April 2 that will be a challenge to them, a challenge to continue and improve the good government that can be given them on April 2, 1963.

Belleville Wins Second Straight Title At Dupo

Freeburg Is Clobbered In Final, 83-53; GC Bows Out

Belleville's Maroons roared to a second straight championship in the Dupo Invitational basketball tournament Saturday night, overruling Freeburg's Midgets, 83-53.

Freeburg, which eliminated Granite City 68-65 in a Friday night semifinal game, was never in the contest all the first period, as it was outscored 27-10 in the opening eight minutes. Earlier in the season, Belleville had been extended to win at Freeburg, 53-51.

The title game before a packed house boasted Belleville's record to 15-1, for the current coach, Coach Jerry Turner's club had won its first game in the Central holiday tourney.

The Maroons, threw in an ironclad defense, held Freeburg to three points while placing five of their own players in double figures. Dave Gale led the win with 20 points.

Dupo State Champion Dupo's "running route" a name attached to his own team by Coach Paul Taylor, snared the consolation trophy by turning back the Maroons in Friday night's first game, 63-62.

The unlikely beheld Granite City as it lost to Freeburg in Friday's semifinals, 68-65, after the impossible had happened to Dupo.

Drive-in shots by Lilley and Freeburg took the lead for keeps on little Joe Weller's (P) from the first basket of the second quarter. The Midgets upped the margin to 28-22 in the second period and then to 43-15 at the beginning of the final stanza.

Drive-in shots by Lilley and Freeburg in the last minute paved the margin to three, to close the Maroons in the second half.

The scoring: Granite City, 16-11; Freeburg, 16-10; Dupo, 15-10; Lilley, 14-10; Weller, 13-10; Charles, 5-Charles (P) vs. Elton Hall, 2-2; Jim Proffitt, 2-2; Glenn Hoffman, 0; George Brink, 0; Jim Warren, 0; Bill Kunz, 2; Joe Wolf, 8; Gordon Sizemore, 4.

Maroons vs. quarters:

Freeburg, 20-16; 11-16; Granite City, 28-20; 18-13; 44-43.

Cathedral had a arch-rival Belleville on the ropes for three quarters, but went completely blank in the fourth period and scored its only point over the last eight minutes on Mike Aufderheide's (P) free throw with 15 seconds left.

The Crusaders caught Belleville with 3:35 left in the third quarter, and rolled from a 36-36 advantage, to a 39-36 advantage, near the three-minute mark.

Freeburg converted 20 of 28, the deciding factor since the winners were outscored by six points.

Crusaders Go 1-11

But the Maroons converted 13 free throws in the last period while Cathedral missed on every one. It had 11 field attempts and four free throws in the fourth quarter, grubbing the line and Cathederal's 20 points in the final period.

The contest was tied five times in the first quarter, with Freeburg taking a 10-9 lead. The Crusaders rebounding held the line with 14 points.

Coach Andy Sullivan expressed disappointment with his club's performance as a team—only 91% at free throw line.

Moore alone pulled down 17 rebounds and Granite City had 40, nearly as many as compared to only 17 for the Crusaders.

While they were not shooting exceptionally well (40%), the Redmen used their size and strength to their own half of the court and repeatedly got more than one shot at the basket.

On Friday, the Crusaders picked up the third period, while Granite City claimed 14 rebounds, a big factor in outscoring the Panthers 26-7 in that period and putting the game away.

Madison Marches On In MWC With 60-42 Win Over Roxana's Shells

Madison was at the height advantage (at usual) when again (as usual) Friday night at Roxana, where Coach Earl McClelland's club chalked up its fourth straight Western Conference victory against the Shells, 60-42.

Putting their present to work, the visitors' effort that at any time in the past two years Madison broke open the game with a 12-6 scoring advantage in the first half, and then put on a patented fast break, accounting 19 points in the fourth quarter.

Big Men Hold In Check

Roxana's big men, 6-5 Jerry Tovo and 6-5 Bill Hamilton, netted just two points between them, while (Dale) Doug Bell, a 6-1 big brother, played on Madison's squad, continued to pour in the points and hit 24 on 10 field goals and four free throws.

The Shells missed an opportunity to close the score to a tie, but the difference was one second half, as Roxana on all but one of nine free throw chances.

Coach Bob Hardy deployed the shells in both, and man-for-man defenses, but Madison got good balance again, with Hayes Wright and Tal Fisk in double figures. Fisk collected all 11 of his points in the last quarter.

Clint Robinson gave Bell some late rebound help, and with spearheaded the opponent's rating press, which is Madison's best defense.

Bethalto Here Tomorrow

St. Louis' third-ranked team has always been able to find the basket against the Trojans, popping in the top to the shells, 12-10. Frazier had 12 from his guard position.

All other Midwest clubs were idle or engaged in non-league affairs, enabling the Trojans to increase their lead to 1½ games.

Lincoln Finds Court Combo Which Clicks In 61-47 Win Over Lovejoy Of Brooklyn

Coach Stan Lynch has been hoping for a productive combination for the current basketball season at Lincoln of Venice high school.

He may have found it Friday night in a senior, two juniors and two freshmen who beat the Rams in their second victory in 10 games at Lovejoy of Brooklyn, 61-47.

Lincoln got away to its usual start in the first quarter, but seemed to sell after that. Lawrence Isaac entered the game early in the opening period.

Together with Wilfred Taylor, Billie Hatter, Calvin Dixon and Tommy Turner, Isaac helped Lincoln roll to an 18-point second quarter, while the smaller Lovejoy club managed just four points.

The girls clinched a 27-14 advantage at halftime and Lovejoy came no closer than eight points at any time in the second half, when the shells cut it to lead to 91. Taylor, who hit four for five from the field, popped in a bucket to restore the 10-point advantage.

The Rams clicked for 21 points in the fourth quarter, their most productive eight minutes of the season.

"I was one of our better games," said Lynch, who had much to talk favorably about up to that point. He added in his last few games by Madison high school transfer, Bill Hayes.

In the night's game, Lynch shuttled in everyone on his bench for a look-see while the Little Rams were being doused, 48-47.

The victory scoring: Lincoln, Hatter 21, Turner 17, Isaac 11, Taylor 8, Dixon 4, Percy Dillon 2, Lovejoy, Young 12, 11, 12, Spinks 6, Bell 6, Bailey 0, McKie 0.

Wesclin Downs Cold Venice In New Baden Tournament Title Game Saturday, 69-45

Venice's Red Devils advanced to the finals of a prep basketball tournament for the first time in nine years Thursday, but finished with a 69-45 victory in the title game of the New Baden Invitational and were soundly thumped by the host Wesclin Warriors, 65-45.

Coach Bill Ohlendorf, who played as a high school sophomore on the last VHS team to make it to a tourney title game, pulled out a victory just late in the second quarter with the Red Devils 17 points down.

"We simply couldn't do anything right; passes were bouncing out of our hands, we weren't shooting well and fighting well," said the young coach, who got some experience," Ohlendorf said afterwards.

The Devils made the trip to the new Baden gym in near-zero weather aboard a bus on which the heater was not functioning. "And our dressing room was so cold that we had to take the shoes off to try to steam the place up," Ohlendorf added.

"That's no excuse for our poor show, but the boys didn't have the normal feel of the ball until late in the game."

The victorious Warriors did. Dave Brede rimmed 20 points, Billie Hatter 12, Tom Hattie 12, and Ralph Johnson nine, enough to win right there. Wesclin used an effective collapsing defense, against the Red Devils, who now dropped two to the Warriors this season.

Last year, the Warriors were beaten in an overtime period by Lennox, 54-52.

Brees placed a 14-10 first-quarter lead, lost it incrementally midway through the second quarter, took a 14-12 lead, and then limited

Breese to just three points in the third quarter. The final three-point spread was as close as the Cards got in the second half.

County Taverns Warned
To Get 1963 Licenses

County Liquor Commission Gus Haller said last week at Edwardsville the county is adopting a "go tough" policy for taverns in unincorporated areas that are slow in obtaining permits for the new liquor year.

While admitting there has been laxity in requiring unincorporated area taverns to have permits, Haller said, "This year, the grace period allowed in former years will be drastically changed."

In response to a suggestion by State's Atty. Dick H. Mudge, that all delinquent tavern operations be notified that they must obtain new licenses for the calendar year by a certain deadline — such as Jan. 31 — Haller later commented:

"The deadline is past. It was Jan. 1, 1963. The law says to have in and get in their licenses if they want to stay in business."

Haller held out the threat of closing taverns which delay obtaining new liquor permits, but set no specific deadline for such action.

Only about 20 of the 147 taverns in the county, which were licensed in 1962 have so far obtained county permits for the new license year which began Jan. 1.

of the new Holiday Inn Motel under construction on Sunset Hill northeast of the Quad-Cities accents the front of the building, above. Autos are the only traffic that has yet to be installed, all-weather plastic covers the building front as construction continues at a rapid pace despite bad weather. At right, gravel has been spread on the driveway leading into the motel to prevent cracking under heavily-loaded trucks and freezing temperatures. A February completion date is the goal.

Farm Column

Madison County Farm Adviser

When weeds compete with your crops, costly reductions in yields often result. Research at the University of Illinois shows how serious this competition really is.

Tests indicate that, when there are 50 foxtail in each foot of row, corn yields are reduced by 19 percent per acre. With the same number of foxtail plants, soybeans are reduced by 11 bushels an acre.

A combination of good cultural practices and chemical control is the most effective method of controlling weeds. Good cultural practices include using clean seed, preparing the seedbed properly, making the right cultivations, following a good fertility program and rotating your crops.

If weeds are not controlled by these practices, chemical weed killers (herbicides) can often be used. Herdical control should not replace cultural practices, but should be used in addition to them.

For more information on weed control, ask your farm adviser for a copy of the new University of Illinois Circular 838, "Weed Control in Field Crops."

A series of farmers' meetings is being held in the district to discuss control, new seed varieties and other crop production topics. The first one was at Alhambra this week. Announcements of other meetings will be made and published. All farmers and landowners are invited to attend.

A new series of television shows, "Landscaping Your Home," is being shown on KMOX-TV, Channel 4, each Saturday morning at 7 a.m. at the College of Agriculture at the University of Illinois in cooperation with Mid-West Television, Inc., Chicago. The program is set to air 12 weeks and offers timely, interesting and valuable information on how to beautify your home through proper landscape design.

Host on the program is Bill Nelson, extension landscape architect at the University of Illinois. He is assisted on each show by a guest specialist in some phase of landscape design and planning.

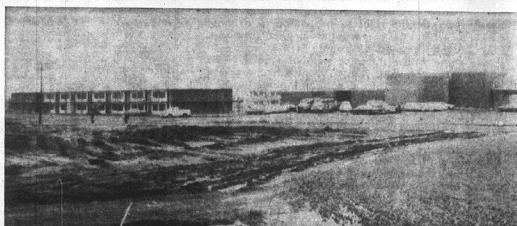

A companion book, "Landscaping Your Home," has been prepared to lend support and background material to the television show. Subject matter in each of its 13 sections corresponds to one of the TV shows. One additional chapter at the end lists reliable plant materials and where you can use them to best advantage in landscape design.

The book offers detailed information for home owners who want to make improvements in their landscape. You can buy a copy of the book for $2. (including sales tax) from the Publications Service, Department of Horticulture, Illinois College of Agriculture, Urbana, Illinois, or through your county farm or home adviser.

A meeting to discuss the details of an insurance situation will be held at Highland the afternoon of Wednesday, Jan. 16, starting at 12:30 p.m. in the Waukegan Room.

The meeting is sponsored by the Agricultural Extension of the University of Illinois and the Illinois Agricultural Association to give farmers the opportunity to get information and to have a chance to get latest information on conditions in the dairy industry, with particular attention to marketing problems in the St. Louis area.

Speakers will be R. W. Bartlett, dairy marketing specialist, University of Illinois and L. K.

Wallace, dairy marketing consultant of the Illinois Agricultural Extension, who are recognized as authorities in agricultural economics and the marketing of milk, and other persons interested in the dairy industry are being invited to attend. The meeting is being held at Highland for the convenience of farmers in the non-producing areas of Madison, St. Clair and Bond counties.

Reasons For Names

By JOHN W. ALLEN

Southern Illinois University

Places naturally have names, a wide range of them. Many are borrowed from those places where the people who came here have lived previously; an occasional borrowed one may even be from some foreign country.

Other names were given to them by the great ones, not great, or to memorialize important events. Additional ones were given for the Indians who played a more or less significant part in the naming.

A few names came purely from accident, like that of Wagon Wheel, that marks the place where a westward immigrant wagon was broken. The name for southern Illinois truly came from many sources.

Foreign Contributions

Among the names from foreign countries that the booklet has to offer are of value for information for the farmer taxpayer. It is free of charge, but the supply is limited.

The new Farmer's Tax Guide lists the latest changes in the Federal tax laws, including the Revenue Act of 1962. Explanations in detail are the tax rights and obligations of farmers, after being held in printing because of the late change in regulations affecting farmers. The booklet has a good deal of valuable information for the farmer taxpayer. It is free of charge, but the supply is limited.

The new Farmer's Tax Guide lists the latest changes in the Federal tax laws, including the Revenue Act of 1962. Explanations in detail are the tax rights and obligations of farmers, after being held in printing because of the late change in regulations affecting farmers. The booklet has a good deal of valuable information for the farmer taxpayer. It is free of charge, but the supply is limited.

The booklet contains a 1963 tax calendar which tells you when to pay your taxes, file your returns, and when to file your tax returns required by the law. A check list of farm income and expenses and an income tax return, completely filled in with explanations are included.

Good record keeping practices make good taxpayers, and for that reason the first chapter in the booklet is devoted to that subject. The book also gives records can be relatively simple, requiring little time to maintain.

The key to accurate record keeping is to note in writing transactions when they occur, and not to depend on memory at a later date.

Frequently, poor records result in a failure to claim tax credits that may be available for Federal income tax purposes. The average farmer makes many small purchases which are not deductible—such things as oils and greases for lubricating farm machinery, sprays and disinfectants for use in dairy barns, shingles for repairing barn roofs, even subscriptions to farm journals and magazines, and the like.

Items like these are often forgotten. The only way to be sure of getting a tax credit is to keep a record of income tax receipts.

Many farmers have been getting copies of the Illinois Farm Record Book for 1963 at the farm adviser's office.

The booklet is for the individual.

Some of these are Kaskaskia, Shawneetown, DuQuoin, Modoc, Patoka, Makanda, Tamaroa, Piasa, Cahokia, Masconoc, Wabash, Mississippi and Cache, each offering a glimpse into Illinois past. In addition there are a dozen or so Indian Creek names.

Biblical Sources

The book lists numerous names. One is for the grandson of Jacob, and Lebanon for a mountain range in the Holy Land. There literally are hundreds of churches named Shiloh, Corinth, Macedonia, Bethel and Mount Olive.

House Doctor Report by Jaycees

St. Elizabeth Hospital's attempt to secure a residential patient will be the subject of a report at a dinner meeting of the Granite City Junior Chamber of Commerce Wednesday.

Jaycees President Alvin Barnes III, along with Paul Morris and John Worthen, attended a meeting last week of the hospital's lay advisory board of hospital personnel and local physicians.

Thomas, hospital administrator, reported on progress of attempts to secure a residential patient to be the subject of a report to the Jaycees. His kitchen is at Devil's Kitchen, east of Grassley Lake. Perhaps he is also a handymen.

Some women, but not necessarily all, have been given the name of Anna and Maude on the list. Mrs. Anna and Mrs. Maude are from Madison, Jefferson, and each has a county seat doing her honor.

Mad Anthony Wayne furnished his name to a county. Marion, the "Swamp Fox" has one of the most Revolutionary War heroes honored in a single county. One, Sergeant Jasper, has the county name for him while his county seat does honor to another Revolutionary War general, Montgomery, killed at Quebec, has his county name.

Odin is for the chief god of Norse mythology, and the name of "Odysseus" honor to the founder of the Mohammedan religion. Because they were told that the Vandals were a great Indian tribe, the Vandals, a name for the second capital of Illinois, gave Vandalia its name.

Some names are Kaskaskia, Shawneetown, DuQuoin, Modoc, Patoka, Makanda, Tamaroa, Piasa, Cahokia, Masconoc, Wabash, Mississippi and Cache, each offering a glimpse into Illinois past. In addition there are a dozen or so Indian Creek names.

Sam Shackelford who is the incumbent and is known by his voting record on the council to be his man.

The surprise candidate and this area's strongest potential voting getter is businessman Kenneth Hartbarger, 34, who has come to the political scene. He emerged as a possible candidate several months ago much to the consternation of the political leaders. His presence and the appearance of his name on the ballot in April threatens to upset the political balance of a one-party system.

On a two-party system, it is difficult to predict what the political climate will be.

At this moment it is to be expected that many red faces will be seen on election day, because Hartbarger, the surprise, here that he is not associated with any political machine, is going to be a political winner, the worst thriving there he's had in many an election year.

The battle cry of voters in this election is to elect a man of action, and Hartbarger seems to be that man.

To the Editor:

With the election less than 20 days away, it is interesting to read the Press-Record and learn that every incumbent alderman will be up for re-election on April 2.

Of particular interest is the race shaping up in the 6th Ward. This ward contains approximately 25% of the city's population and is the most extreme aldermanic seat. Its people have responsible representation on the city council.

Out here in the early stages of this pre-election struggle, it looks something like this: Wardfield, supposedly this area's political strong man, is reported to be backing the 70-plus-year-old

Fluoridation, Still Blocked By Council, Was Approved By Voters Two Years Ago

As the April election date draws near, thoughts hark back to the voting of two years ago, when Granite Cityans overwhelmingly approved fluoridation of the water supply.

Authorization of fluoridation—which eliminates 60% of future tooth decay—continues to be blocked by Granite City aldermen, who not only failed to support the voter election mandate but took direction to block it.

St. Louis and Chicago have enjoyed the benefits of fluoridation for a number of years. St. Louis county last week joined the list, which includes over 6,000,000 Illinois residents and many more millions elsewhere in the nation.

The fluoridation issue will not be forgotten, for it means too much to the people of the Quad-Cities and Illinois Metropolitan Area. When will the roadblock be removed by the council?

Life is more puzzling to man than death but it has greater popular support.

Consolidation Of Agency Office

Quarters Can Cut Operating Costs

Rent being paid by service agencies amounts to a large figure when all of the various Quad-City offices are considered. Since all are locally supported and have mutually compatible goals, it would make sense to pare their overhead expenses by consolidating offices within a single building.

A current Chamber of Commerce study will show whether it would be best to buy or rent joint quarters, but in either case the proposal has merit. Funds saved will make it that much easier to finance the basic functions. And added benefits can accrue from a greater proximity to each other, such as sharing of secretarial help.

In addition to such groups as the Chamber, United Fund, Associated Retailers and Boy Scouts, other agencies often encounter a need for close contact with each other, such as the Catholic Charities, Coordinated Youth Services, Protestant Welfare, Red Cross and township relief office. The Salvation Army also might wish to participate.

Post Office Result of Long Effort; Downtown Services Must Continue

Ground-breaking ceremony for the new Granite City post office culminates over six years of intensive effort by a special Chamber of Commerce committee and others who have sought enlarged postal facilities. The structure will harmonize with the design of the adjacent fire station and will be an appropriate addition to a block that someday may be the central location for municipal government buildings.

Now that construction of a new main post office has been started, there must be moved efforts to assure continuation of adequate downtown postal services. Since the existing post office is not expected to be maintained, smaller but equally well-located quarters will need to be found.

Even a new broom won't sweep clean unless somebody uses it.

Optimists Hear Talk On Fire Safety

Fire safety precautions in homes were outlined Thursday afternoon for members of the Granite City Optimist Club. The presentation was made by Asst. Fire Marshal Charles Donley and William Patterson.

They demonstrated fire hazards in homes, showed slides of typical home fires and discussed the importance of having a family plan for fire safety. Charles Donley pointed out 70% of all home fires are caused by electrical equipment.

During the meeting, G. H. Sternberg presented a set of Optimist emblem cuff links and a bar to Daniel Brown, local Boy Scout executive and club member who is transferring to the Joliet Scout Council.

Brown, who is active in the Granite City Optimist Club, has been a member for almost six years and previously had been a member at the Lansing, Mich. club.
